ORIENTATION

Dear Sir or Miss.....:

Now that you have chosen Western as the institution where you will continue to follow the long and devious path to higher education that you have followed from . . . What's a purple spur? . . . Frosh! What's a kid like you doing in a nice place like this? . . . Hey Larry, take a look at that chick over there I think she's from T.O. . . . Excuse me sir, where do I find . . . and they call it the Delaware Hilton isn't that funny . . . thought the beanies were free but then this guy says they cost . . . there she is over there

Larry . . . so I mean if I don't have to go to these orientation lectures why the hell should I . . . and the dances are all right too . . . so the last thing before I leave I hear have you got your toothbrush and guess what . . . and this is my roommate Larry, Larry this is Janet she's from Whitworth . . .

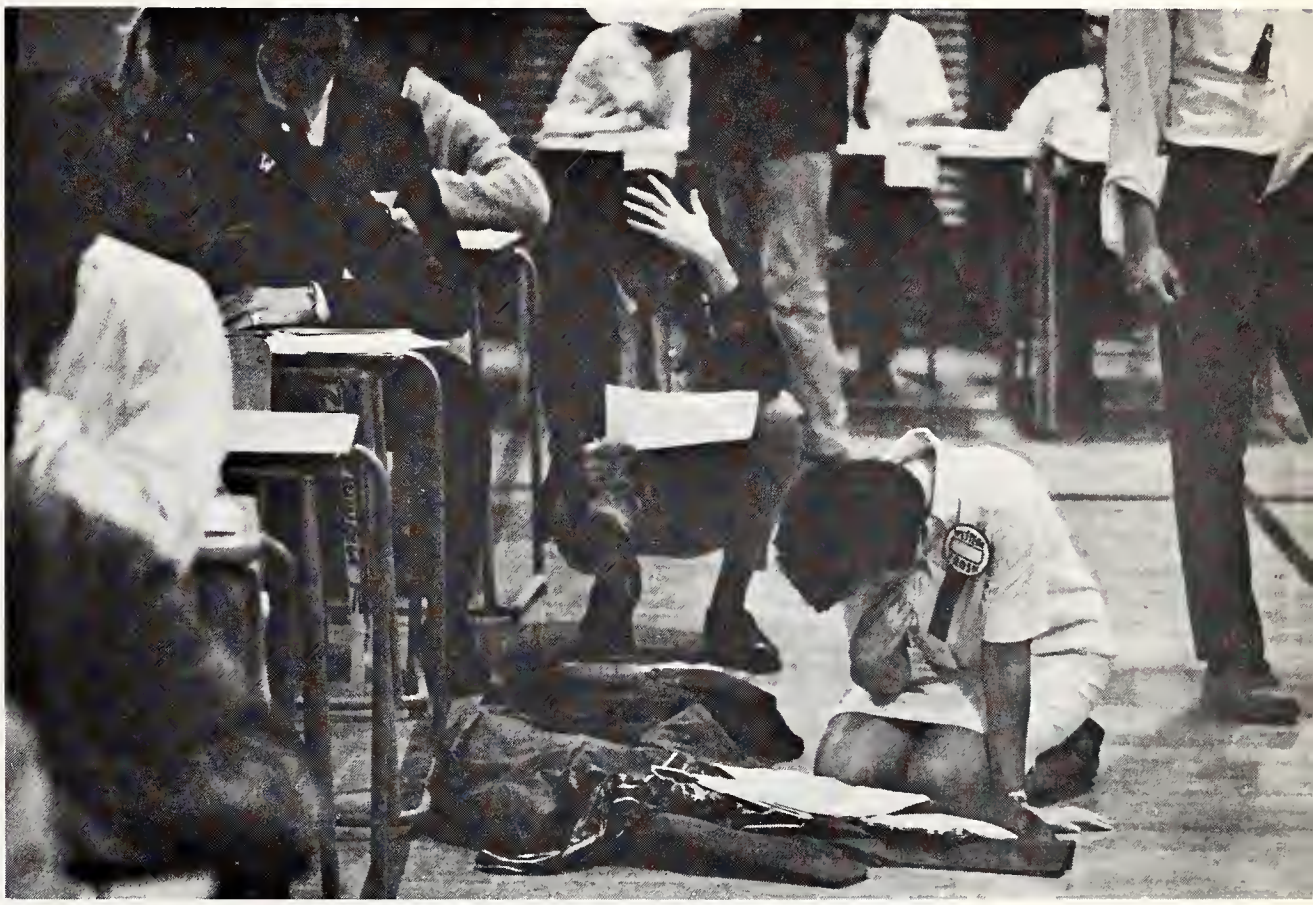
Hi there Janey,Peter,Anne, George, Jan, chris, allen, john, gord . . . AT ELEVEN THIRTY HELL I'VE BEEN WAITING SINCE NINE O'CLOCK . . . God my feet are tired . . . Dammit where's my pen I'll bet I left the . . . how can I write a check without a pen? . . . thank you . . . yes, I do have . . . yes I did . . . dammit I've lost my ballpoint again . . . and it has two three hour labs a week plus three lectures? . . . section E, section F, and section H are filled . . . good to see you again . . . do my feet hurt . . . no I really wanted to take 38 but they said . . . yes my department head signed . . . dammit I know my religious affiliation card is in here somewhere. . . . how can I tell the student directory where I live if I don't know and don't care . . . Oh they're blue this year . . . where'd my pen go? . . . T.B. shots oh yes . . . ouch dammit couldn't you sharpen it? . . . I sign away $515.65 and you ask whether I want to give to the United Appeal? . . . I can't find my pen . . . John are you going down to the ceeps?



PHONY S.U.B.

LUTHER'S RIDE

The Engineers get easily chopped off. When they found out last September that they were not going to get a S.U.B., the activists over there decided that they should have one.

Naming their project after kindly old Colonel D. B. Weldon (who ended up having a library named after him), they dragged it from a construction site over to Stevenson Hall to show their handiwork to the powers - that - might - be. They weren't impressed.

Luther rode at Western in early '68. B. of G. decided that the students should have a chunk of the governing process at Western, but they weren't going to stoop to grass roots democracy. The student rep. had to be a graduate from Western who had been out of this hot-bed of radicalism for at least a year. They were probably counting on the students coming up with someone like John Robarts or Ward Cornell, but it didn't quite happen that way.

Patrick Donohue came riding out of St. Peter's Seminary as a candidate. Deciding that his non-secular image would be improved with a little ecumenism, Pat donned his black cape, black hat, black boots, and black wig. Strangely enough, he looked like Martin Luther. Aside from riding a horse across the campus (and through a few cafeterias) Pat didn't do much to publicize his campaign.

It was enough though. The USC had thought the whole thing was a bad idea and as a result they hadn't bothered to find a candidate. At any rate, Pat was unopposed and won by acclamation. The results wouldn't have been any different had there been opposition. Governor Donohue was made for the position.

USC

The USC could almost call '67-'68 a lesson in futility. The SUB was shot down, Peter Larson resigned from lack of support from his council, and an attempt to replace Tom Rossiter with a full-time paid editor was hung up by a quicky referendum notice pulled "out of the hat" by Ian Brooks, Pubs minister.

Ted Johnston strove to balance his budget (he didn't), Ed Nelles strove to keep publications honest, clean, and quiet (he didn't), and Tom Dean strove too.

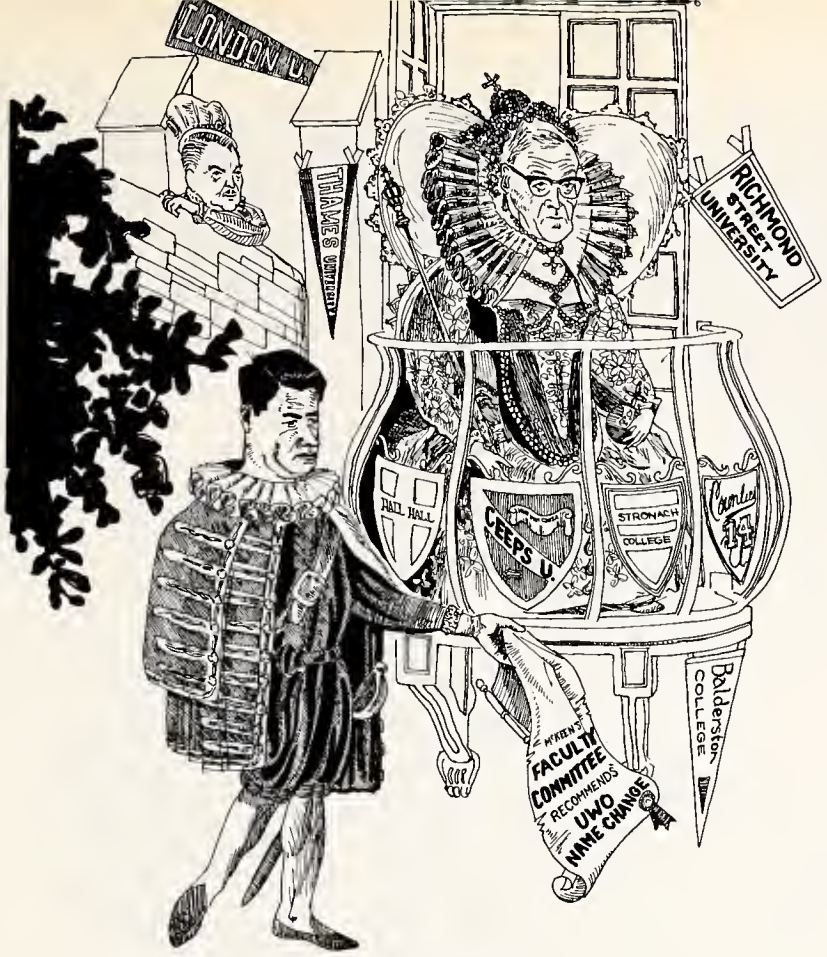
Dean was elected president after Larson resigned, being opposed by Darragh Mogan. Perhaps as a result of this, the USC went to the people, and graduating engineer John Yokom was elected for a full-time one year term, being opposed by Mike Ledgett, who wanted to see the job as a sort of part time thing.

Probably the most momentous thing the Council did was to attend a well-publicized wine and cheese party thrown by President D. C. Williams.

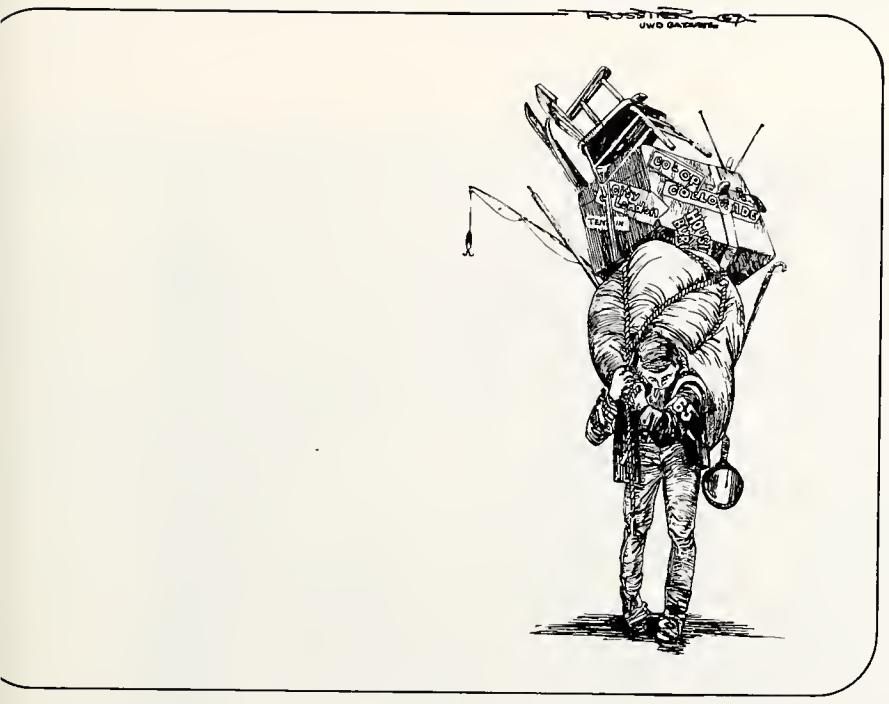
ROSSITER

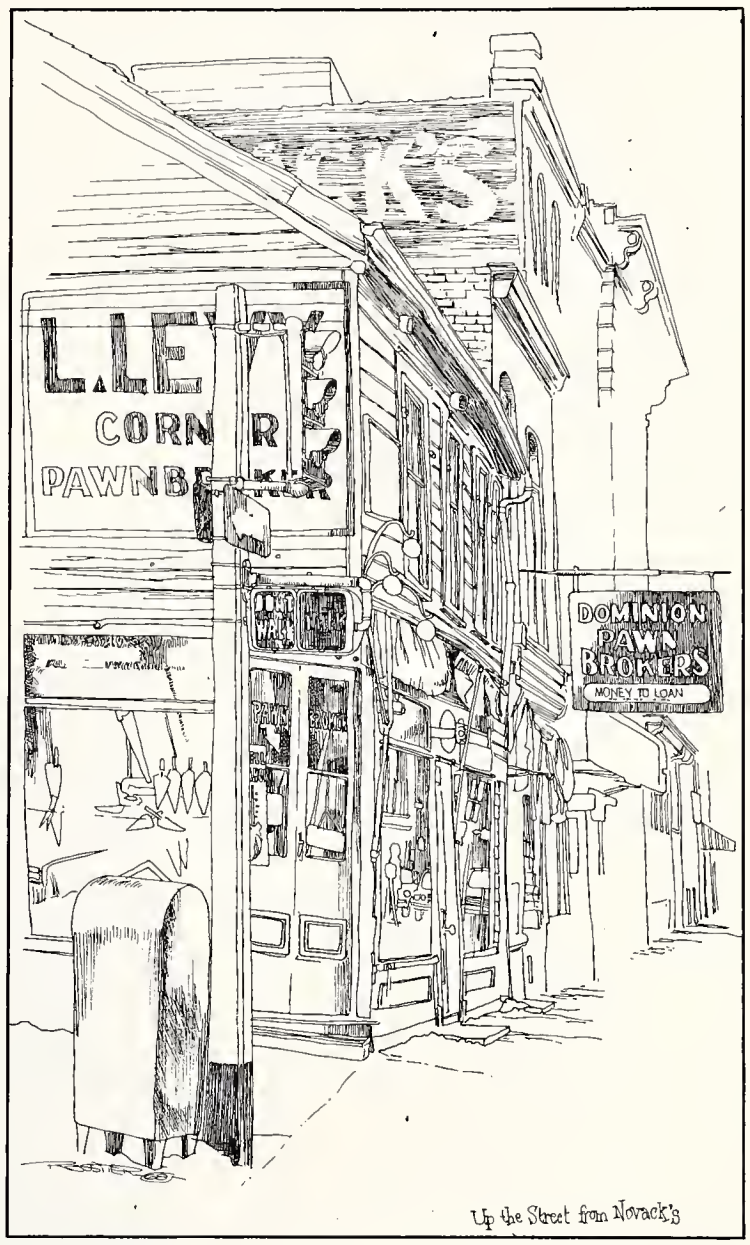
Tom Rossiter, co-Editor of the Gazette for the second term of '67-'68, has done more than that service as a contribution to Western Publications.

The cartoonist has a truly subjective view of the world, a view that yearbooks rarely get. In this light, we show you the pen of Tom Rossiter—an example of one man's view of Western.



As an editorial cartoonist, Tom has depicted many issues at Western: as an illustrator, Tom has managed, through collages, to capture the essence of a situation — the mood of the Ceeps, the feeling of a street is caught by his pen.



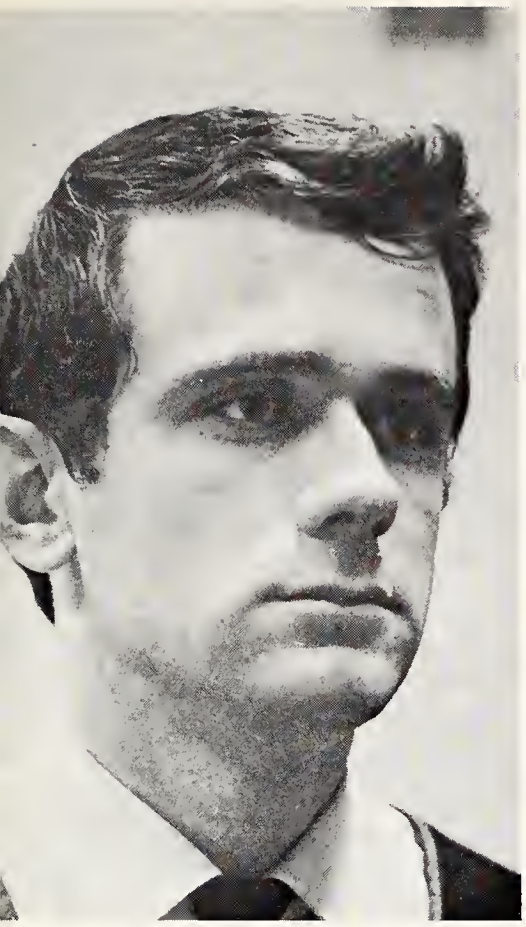


Up the Street from Novack's

THE GAZETTE

What would we be without the Gazette? Although there are some U.S.C. members that have fond dreams on that question, for the bulk of the campus, the Gazette is Western.

'67-'68 found the Gazette in sort of rough shape. The immortal (?) Jim Schaefer decided not to return to school and the post of editor was left vacant for the fall term. Elwin Moore and Dennis Schroeder were appointed interim associate editors, and the paper won the Jacques Bureau Trophy for the best weekly university paper in Canada at the C.U.P. convention in Vancouver that Christmas.



Providence always lends a hand to the Gazette, for Bob Strupat appeared on the horizon, and with Tom Rossiter, took over the Gazette for the spring and fall of '68—Strupat taking the spring, Rossiter taking the fall.

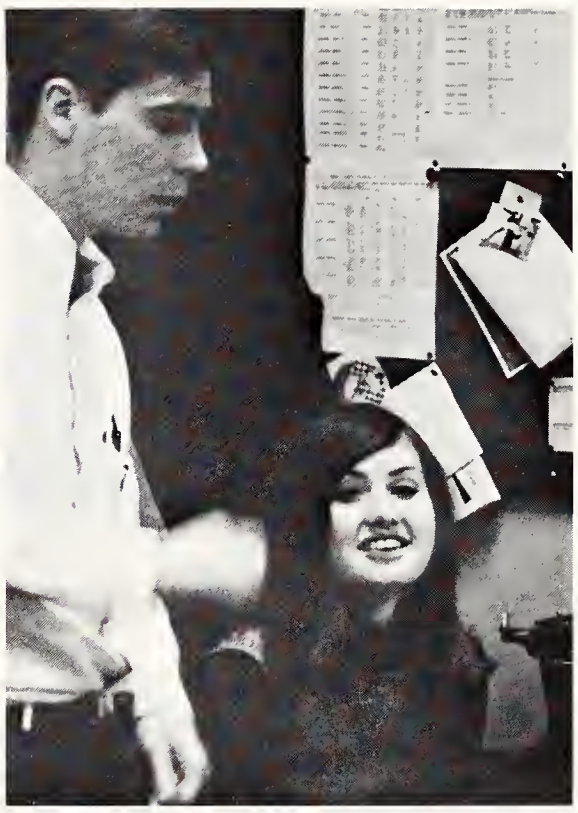
And the paper continues.

With editors like D. B. Scott and Dave Cox, and columnists like Patrick (Luther) Donohue and Mike Sherman, the paper couldn't go wrong. But other things could.

The U.S.C. has never truly appreciated the independence that the Gazette has shown in its dealings with the council. Late in the spring, a movement came afoot to remove Tom Rossiter from his post and replace him with a full-time paid editor (who would be more suitable to the council). This was only averted by a petition for a referendum sent around by an unnamed member of the Publications Commission. This would have delayed the issue until the fall, so that matter was successfully defended, from the viewpoint of the Gazette anyway.

Bob Strupat fills out his term and goes on to be editor of Campus, a Toronto-based magazine for all university students in Canada.

Tom Rossiter will go on to publish what will be reputed to be the best Gazettes ever seen at Western.

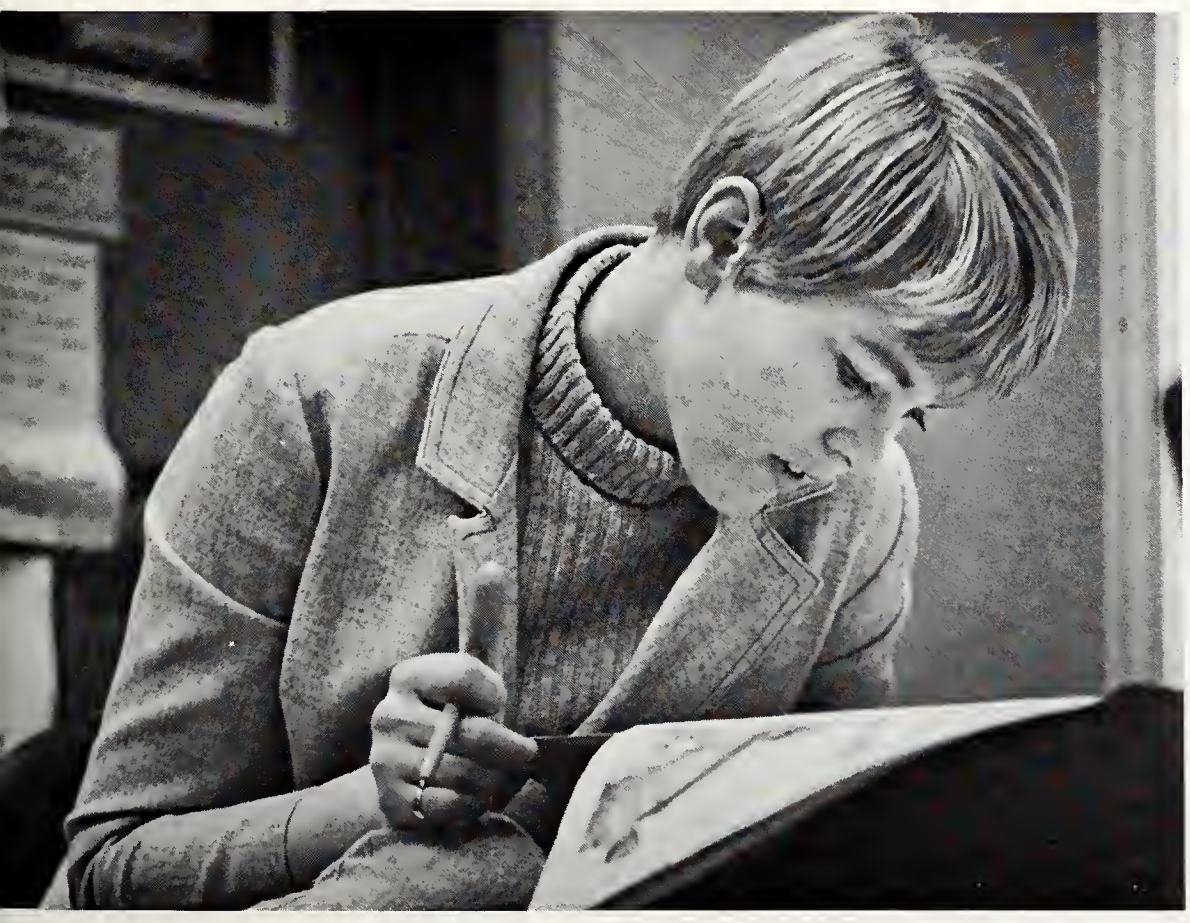


OCCIDENTALIA STAFF

This is the bunch that did it. To the right is Donna Samoyloff, Editor (alias Miss Smith). Quite unsuspectingly, she walked by the Oxy office one day last October, and was asked if she wanted to be editor of the yearbook. To everybody's surprise, she did. Without her there wouldn't have been a book.

Below is Evan Browne, who tried to organize things into a workable state in his position of Assistant Editor. One of his chief problems, and one which affected the entire yearbook operation, was the distribution of the previous year's yearbook. Because he is a photographer, some of his pictures are in this book as well.

The man with the camera is David Brown (otherwise known as d.r.). As the photo-Editor for the outfit, he made sure that the pictures that he would need were taken by the photographers. He took a lot himself — as a result, there are a lot of good pictures in this book.



Chuck Petersen was dragged into the organization when Donna joined. Hired on ostensibly as "systems analyst", it soon became apparent that Chuck was damned good at organizing things, as well as being an excellent photographer. As chairman of L. J. Cook Associates, he also added important social prestige to the organization.

Above is Dale Gardiner who assisted in the planning and execution of the entire book. One of the few people on the staff that had had previous yearbook experience at Western, Dale's help was invaluable.

Lynn Alexander, to the left, was responsible for laying out the Grad section (which takes up much of this book). Lynn, along with Dale, had worked on yearbooks here at Western before, and certainly without her, the whole task would have been impossible.

That's it.

ENTERTA

CHAD & JEREMY

One thing is for certain, it was a vintage year for entertainment at Western. The audiences said a not too tearful goodbye to Thames Hall (affectionately known as the Armpit) as Alumni Hall went into its first full season.

The year opened with the Purple Spur pushing Chad and Jeremy to both the Frosh and anyone else who had the bread — and the show was worthwhile. Sometimes bitter, sometimes whimsical, always entertaining, the two blended together, as the Gazette commented, "like Scotch and water."

RAY CHARLES

The Alumni Association's Great Artists' Series brought Ray Charles the following month, thoroughly wowing the crowds. Backed up by the Raylets, protegé Billy Preston, and the 16 piece Ray Charles Orchestra, Charles demonstrated his mastery of the blues to a packed house.

JULIAN BREAM

Guitarists are in at Western in '67-'68. Bream, Montoya, and Perrone play on campus, while Segovia plays at Centennial Hall.

And Bream is fantastic. Playing both guitar and lute, he brings the sound of the middle ages to Alumni Hall, mixing it with the sound of twentieth century Brazil. The Gazette calls him a "master of technique."

IAN & SYLVIA

The Lovin' Sound came to Western. Brought by the FMS, Ian and Sylvia demonstrated a vitality of performance and a power that is barely hinted at in their records. Showing the new direction in folk, with their "country and north-western" sound, the two were ably backed up by David Rae (the Professor) on guitar and Ken Kalmusky on bass.

Drawing from diverse musical writers (themselves, Joni Mitchell, Tim Hardin, and others) the concert had width and depth. It was a good evening for the group, and the crowd sensed it. The two encores they received were barely an adequate expression from the sold-out house.

LIGHTFOOT

And then there is Lightfoot. And Red Shea. And John Stockfish. Recalling the botch the Bizz Boys had made of their show the year before when the Highwaymen rode off with all of their money, leaving the moneymen with a deficit, it was good to see them pick a winner this time around. And pick a winner they did.

The tickets for the show went so fast that after some rapid pencil pushing, a few sums, and a few long distance telephone calls, a second show was arranged, which sold out as well.

As far as Lightfoot was concerned, Gord couldn't go wrong in the eyes of the audience, although the Gazette thought that his Saturday night show was a trifle weak.

But Lightfoot appeals as only Lightfoot can, being a genuine twenty-four-carat gold Canadian and all that. It was good to see him again.

MONTOYA

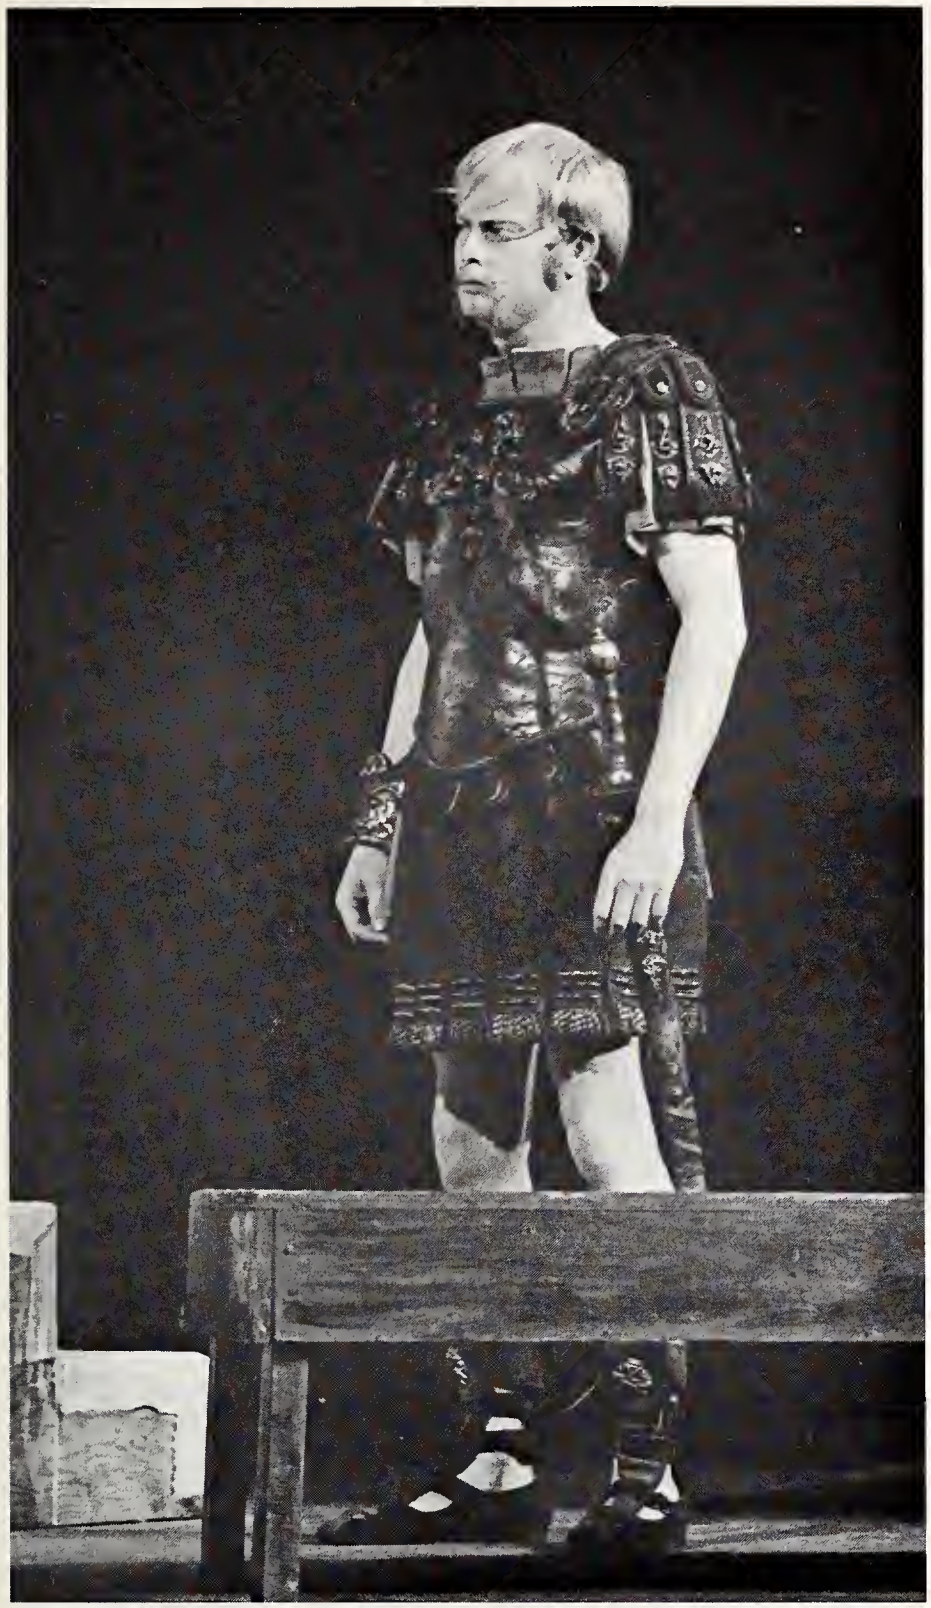
YARBROUGH

Yarbrough came in for Winter Weekend and the Purple Spur had a winner on their hands. Darkeyed and very tired, Glenn showed his stuff like a real trouper. Cutting a wide swath through popular music, from Rod McEwan to Phil Ochs. Nearly upstaging him were two of his sidemen, Maffit and Davies. It was a show that was designed to appeal to everybody a little bit, and if some purists went home thinking they had been cheated, it was only because they were expecting too much of one thing. Good entertainment.

THE PLAYERS' GUILD

CALIGULA



The Players' Guild ran the play Caligula in November, and ran it well. Playing in Talbot College theatre, the organization handled this difficult play excellently. Jay Sayer played Caligula, with Susan Crowther playing opposite to him as his mistress, Caesonia. Dick Sutherland backed them up playing the captain of the guards with power and intensity.

The Gazette critic didn't appreciate the show terribly, but most people didn't concur.

GILBERT & SULLIVAN

IOLANTHE

Iolanthe was the Gilbert and Sullivan Society's fling this time around, and few people were disappointed. Harold Johnson, as the Lord Chancellor, led the way, doing a stunning job with the role. Martha Cover and Joan Somerville carried the female leads, again doing an excellent job.

For pure spectacle, this was a hard production to beat, with the scenery excellent and the choreography, by Marilyn Sheilds, superb.

BACK STAGE

To use a well worn cliche, these are the people behind the scenes. To be more specific, this crew puts sets together, puts costumes together, puts shows together.

Occasionally they get their names on programs, but they are the ones who don't need their egos fulfilled by getting out front. Strange as it might seem, these people actually like the work.

God knows they are needed.

PURPLE PATCHES

"A FUNNY THING HAPPENED ON THE WAY TO THE FORUM"

Raunchy, lewd, and funny, Purple Patches hit Western with what was judged to be their best production yet. Producer Don Fleckser played the jokes for all they were worth in the true vaudeville style, and the move paid off. Not only did the cast enjoy the show, but the audience did too.

Brian Dimartile played the lead, Pseudolus, with style and enthusiasm, leaving the Gazette to comment that he deserved the credit for the success of the show. The other twenty-five onstage types backed him up ably.

Mary Clarkson did a superlative job of choreographing the dance numbers, with Pat Tremaine, Val Grabove, and Ruth Suzuki raising eyebrows with some extraordinary bump and grind stuff.

Certainly, the show was the liveliest seen on campus in a long time, and Patches may be a while coming up with a repeat performance.

Chalk it up as another rebuilding year for Coach Metras and the boys. It was just another one of those seasons where, if it hadn't been for the perennially bad McGill Redmen, the Stangs would have fallen off the botttom rung of the ladder.

With a 1-4-1 league record and a third place finish, it wasn't as bad as all that. But the Redmen did threaten to make it rough for the Western gang. After losing their first five games (three exhibition, two league), the Mustangs and 800 beer-polluted supporters hit Montreal for the game and the last weekend of Jean Drapeau's fair.

Two bobbled balls on third-down punting situations enabled the Reds to gain possession and charge for two majors.

Like much of the season, the second-half Stangs came through, but they couldn't come through fast enough. In Montreal, they regained only 13 of the 15 points McGill had spotted them.

Then the Reds invaded Little Memorial Stadium. Just to show who was boss, the goal-hungry Stangs gave the homecoming crowd a display of the Western team of earlier years. With the game only three minutes old, the score was Stangs by six.

At ten minutes, they were up ten-zip., and after the first quarter, the Redmen were down 20-0.

In the third frame, the Mustangs came on strong again, scoring four majors and three singles. Then, in the last quarter, with Western leading 47-0, Bruce Hough was forced to concede a single point in his own endzone, and the game ended, 47-1. Not bad.

Then it was on to Toronto for the annual grudge match against the Blues. Western looked like they were continuing the previous contest as they rolled up leads of 10-0 and 17-7.

However, an oustanding aerial display by the Varsity squad, and the odd Mustang fumble and miscue, enabled the Blues to tie the game 17-17, fall behind 18-17 with 1:58 left, and then tie the game with a single point on the last play of the game.

Ironically (with reference to the dismal season showing), the Mustangs were the only team that could have challenged Toronto for the Yates Cup, but the tie blew that hope.

With the record of the other teams in the league, Western could have pulled the O-QAA out of the fire with a win in the final Western - Queens game at home. Perhaps disheartened by the Toronto tie, all the Mustangs could do was to slosh around in the mud, losing 10-5 to the Golden Gaels.

One of the happier results of the season was the placement of seven Mustangs on the O-QAA All-Star squad. Named were Bob Israel, Bill Hendershot, Bill Martin, Ottavio Colosimo, Carl Lindros, Pete Tasker, and Brian Murray.

Bob Israel was no surprise as quarterback — it was his year. As co-captain, Izzy was probably half of the Stangs offense. Besides being named top conference pivot, Bob set a precedent by being named winner of the George McCullagh Award for the second year in a row. The trophy goes for the most valuable player on the Mustang Senior football team.

Bill Hendershot performed some miraculous pass-catching feats at his flanker-back position, catching all - Star recognition as well.

Pete Tasker put in his first year as the Mustang's centre, but was good enough to make the dream-team.

Carl Lindros captured the offensive end position. It was well deserved.

Ottavio Colosimo, Western's other co-captain, who performed double duty as corner linebacker and placement kicker, took the left corner spot, and was accompanied on the right by corner Bill Martin.

Bespectacled Brian Murray was a standout at defensive tackle, and made the super-squad in his rookie year.

With the nucleus of this year's team back for '69, the Mustangs should give a fresh new look in a fresh new league. Let's hope so.

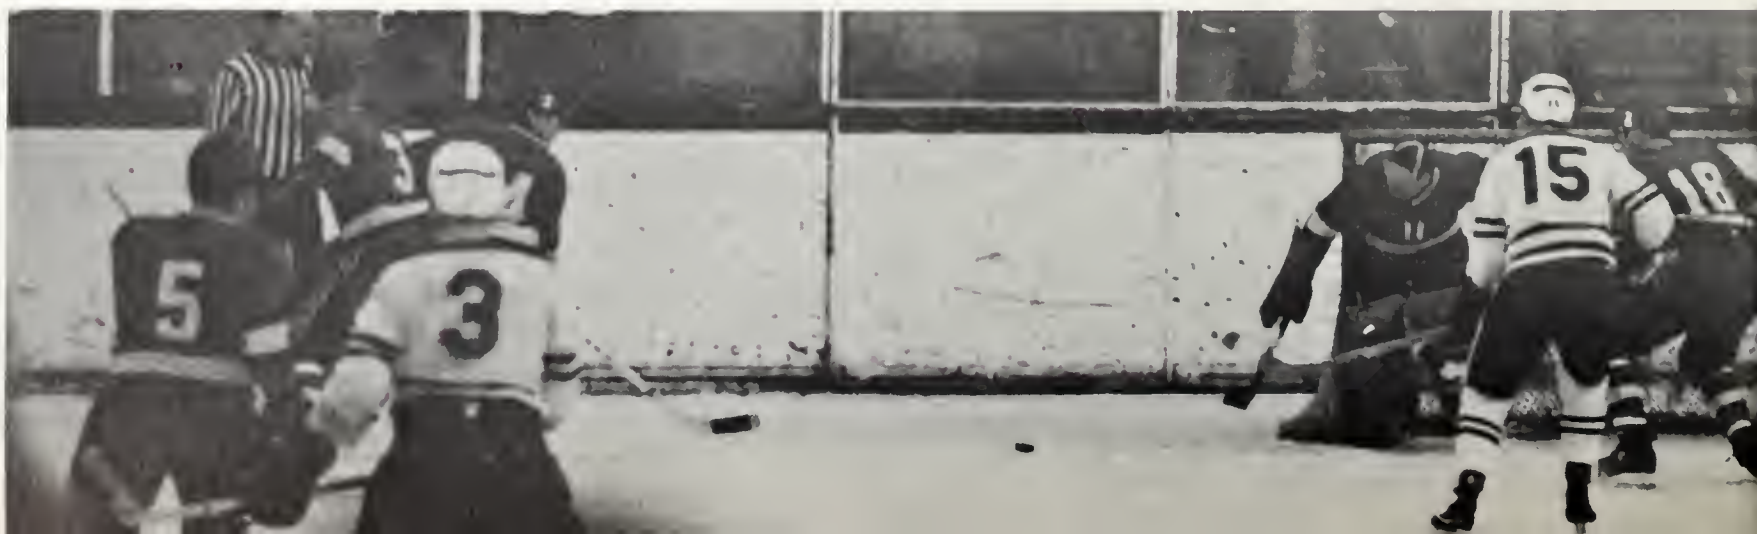
HOCKEY

The Hockey Mustangs sort of blew it too—finishing in fifth place in a field of nine, and out of the money.

They tried hard, though, putting on a good drive. Unfortunately, they found themselves in the position of having to win their last four games to make the last playoff spot. The champion Toronto Blues wiped out that hope with a 4-1 win in the second last game.

The league record for the Stangs was 7-7-2 (.500 hockey for those who keep percentages). They just squeaked into that with a narrow 6-5 win over Guelph in the last game.

At that final game, the Western pucksters found themselves with only one goaltender — Alyn Patterson, who stuck it out while the other two chose to retire.



Perennial All-Star, Gary Bonney decided to pack things in just after Winter Weekend, when Coach Ron Watson imported a third goaltender from the Woodstock Junior 'C' squad—Art Fraser—who won a couple of clutch games for the stangs in their drive for the last playoff spot.

Fraser was only the third goalie in four years the Stangs have made use of. After the team was eliminated from the playoffs after the T.O. game, Fraser went back to Woodstock by prior agreement.

Western had kind of rough going in the exhibition department — zero for eight (unless you count the preseason 8-1 mash of the London Nationals Junior 'A' group, which isn't officially tagged as an exhibition as both teams had had little practice).

Only one player stood forth in the Hockey Stangs this season—Dave Field. A bulwark on the defense corps who played close to 40 minutes a game. Dave captures second All-Star ratings for his efforts. —which included 4 goals and 13 assists.

They said it couldn't be done—and couldn't, at least not this season.

Jerry Gonser and his bouncing boys faked out the bookmakers — and above all the Windsor Lancers — as they came from behind to pot 25 points and edge the Lancers over-all by six points to take the League pennant in the last game of the season. The following week, they dropped the Lancers again by 22 points to take the O-QAA crown.

From there they went on to the East Coast for the Canadian College Championships. More of that later.

Western and Windsor had both ended the season with identical 8-2 records, but because Western had outscored Windsor in the two times the teams had met, the top spot went to the Stangs.

Going into the final league game here at Western, the Lancers held a comfortable 18 point lead, and looked unbeatable, and for the first half they were, leading 44-39 at the half.

With an inspired pep-talk under their belts, the hometown boys hustled back out onto the floor of the Eric Reid Memorial Gym and proceeded to run circles around their slightly overconfident opponents. Using their momentum and the deafening cheers of a jam-packed Thames Hall, the Stangs ran away with the game, flooring the perennial champions, the Lancers, 97-72.

As it worked out, the game was merely a warm-up for the Championship game the next weekend.

56	68	Carleton

After disposing of the Waterloo Warriors 75-57 in the semi-final on Friday night, the Stangs showed their disbelievers that the 25 point edge the week before wasn't a fluke.

As in the game the week before, the Stangs had six gunners in double figures, as the Lancers fell by a 22 point margin, 84-62.

But that was their peak. Perhaps overconfident, perhaps a lot of things, Western was up 15 points (54-39) with 14 minutes left in the Championship semi's in Antagonish, playing against the St. Mary's Huskies of Halifax, when the Huskies, led by five American ball players, dropped in 24 straight points to edge the Stangs 78-74.

Then, minus two starters (Marnix Heersink—re-injured knee, and Captain Greg Poole —infected toe) the Stangs played their worst game of the season losing to the highly under-dog Carleton Ravens 69-56.

Western had been the odds on favourite to walk off with the whole show, beating out a UBC squad, but the Stangs had faltered, and UBC choked as well, losing out to a fired up Waterloo Lutheran Golden Hawk squad.

But ain't that life.

Over-all, the Stangs had not really fared that well. Including their two horror shows on the East coast, and seven out of seven exhibition slaughters at the hands of American Universities, the Purple and White had chalked up an 11-12 record.

The other exhibition loss went to Waterloo Lutheran, whom they had beaten in the first of two back-to-back games.

League losses went to the Toronto Blues (90-89 overtime at the Reid Gym), and Windsor (105-88 in Windsor —the loss that sparked the great comeback).

That's the way the B.ball bounces though.

The ball did bounce right for three Mustangs as Bob Larose, Greg Poole, and Dave McGuffin made the second All Star team.

Larose was moved from forward to centre when All-Star Marnix Heersink was forced out of the lineup early in the season with recurrent knee injuries.

Cap'n. Poole was a defensive mainstay at guard, while McGuffin, who was used as a lift for the Mustangs by barrelling off the bench to hoop numerous points, rounded out the glory boys.

Heersink, All-Star and Most Valuable Player in his rookie year the season before, came on strong from the time of his return (hooping 26 points in the 105-88 drubbing at Windsor in his first game out), and was awarded the Father LeBel Trophy as the MVP in the playoffs.

One team that deserves a lot of credit, but rarely got it, was Gary Smith's junior varsity squad, the Colts.

These guys played anyone who would chance a loss, and managed to win nine straight against Canadian opposition, before being edged out 74-72 by Windsor in the last game of the season.

The Colts—who provide recruits for the Senior Mustangs—managed a 10-4 record, including three losses to tough American teams.

They did manage to prevail once on the Yankee circuit, with a 99-85 win over Oakland University of Rochester.

RUGGER

The Rugger Mustangs got out-ruggered in the clutch.

With a perfect record of eight wins in eight games (including six- countem- six shutouts), ye olde rugger chaps rambled into Toronto's Varsity Stadium intent on whaling the tar out of the Blues.

After all, they'd done it twice before during the season, trouncing the Blues 18-6 and 13-0 on their way to their first undefeated season in UWO history and the Western Division Crown.

The home hog - towners, however, were pretty shifty. They capitalized on a couple of Western errors, overcame a couple of personal injuries, wiped out a 6-3 deficit at half-time, and used sheer guts and a lot of muscle power to thump the Stangs 11-6.

One measly game and the championship went to T.O.

You can't win 'em all, but just the same, after having a record like theirs,—eight for eight with 99 points for and 11 against — you almost feel like chewing the lower lip a bit.

Coach Derek Kersley wasn't too bitter about the defeat, though. As a matter of fact we quote Derek after the T.O. disaster: "Not one of our Mustangs left the field without playing their hardest. They have nothing to be ashamed of and everything to be proud of."

Well, there are the outlines for the major sports of the institution — the ones that drew the top crowds and managed to take all the eight column spreads and sports features in the newspapers.

But there are a few more sports than that at this Zu, Charlie. There were thirteen other programs that kept ol' Western under the sports spotlight this year, including badminton, curling, fencing, golf, rowing, skiing, soccer, squash, swimming, tennis, track and field, volleyball, and the brute force sport, wrestling.

The Badminton team, under Dutch Decker, came up with a winner in Ken Delf, who won the O-QAA singles championship. Contrary to popular opinion, badminton wasn't a bird sport for Western as the team placed third in the Western Division tournament, held on our own courts.

GYM CLUB

The curling team, with good ice under them, and backed by the Dutchman, drew into second place in the big O-QAA Bonspiel in Kitchener.

The Curling Club, had a good time as well, with membership up over the previous year.

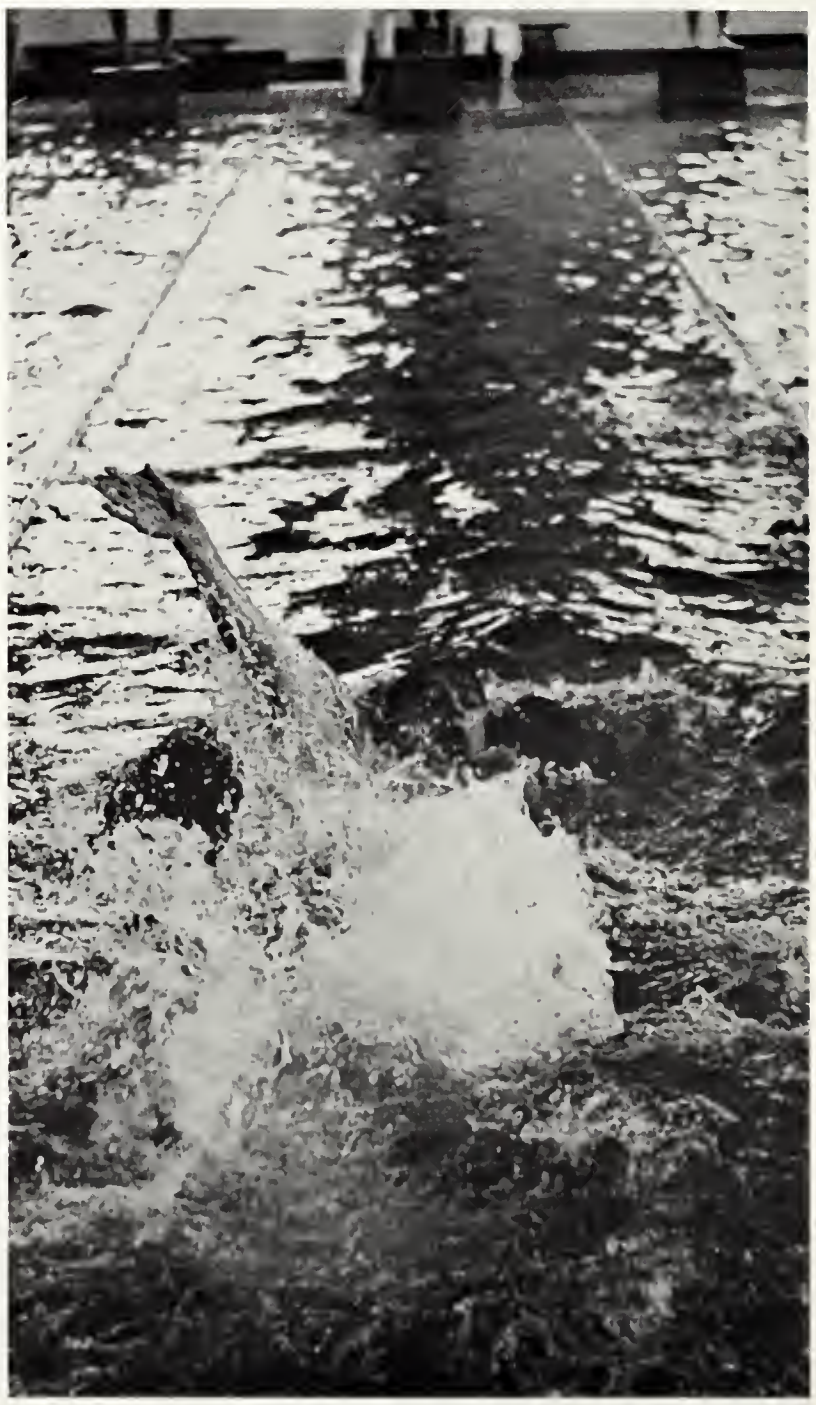
TRACK AND FIELD

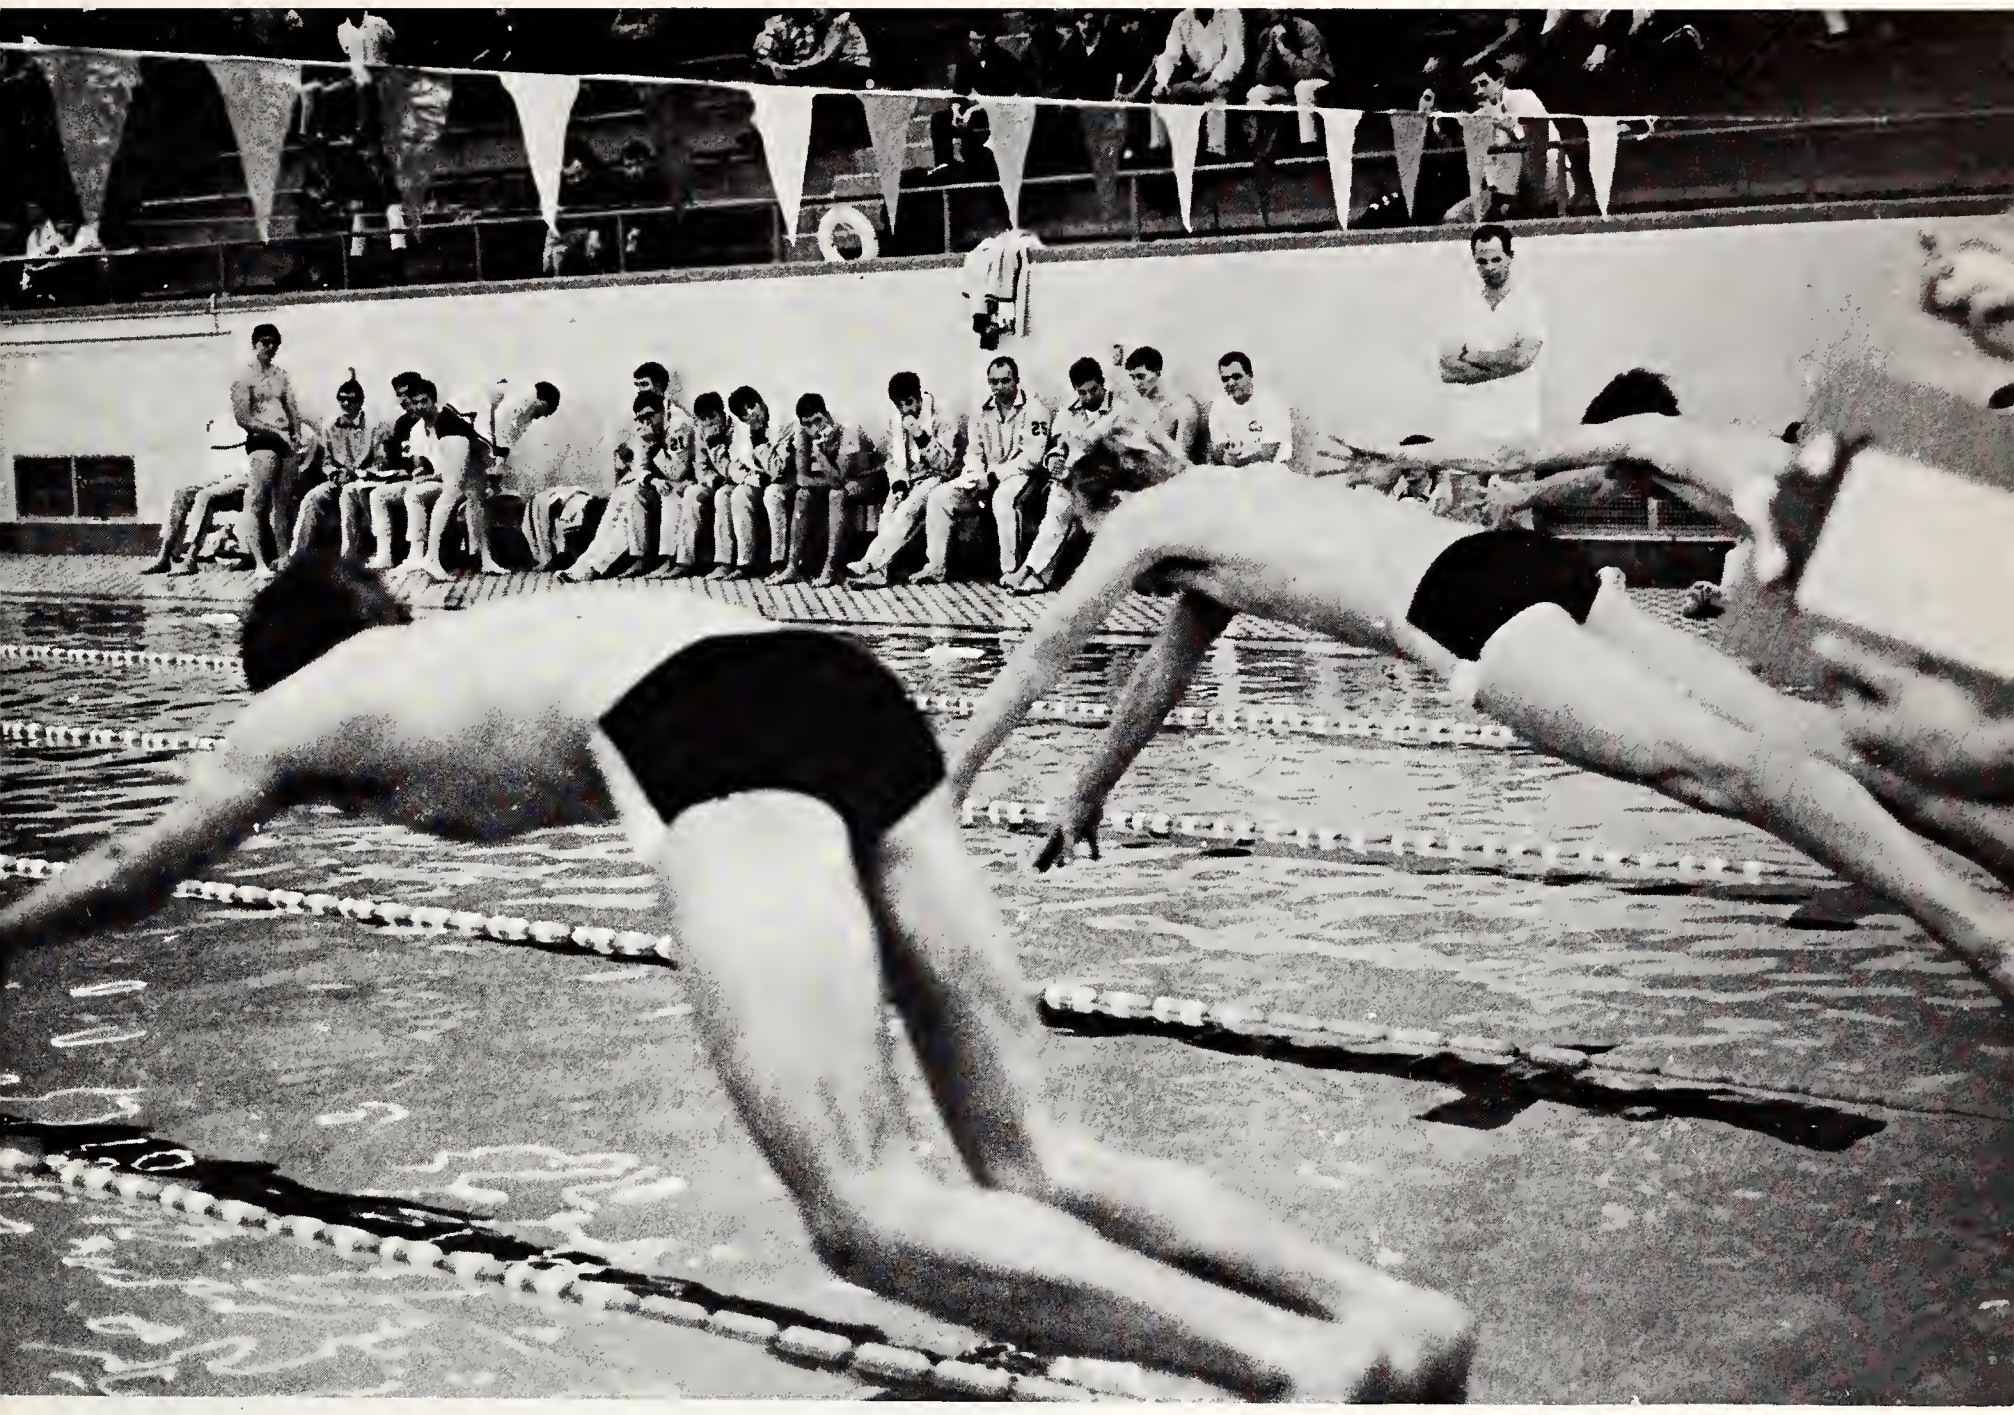
The Track and Fielders never really got on track, and in the O-QAA Championships held in the Little Memorial Stadium, the team ended up in fifth place. Held on a cold and windy day, it was a wonder that any of them could move, let alone move fast, after having done all that practice in the steamy jungle of the Engineering tunnel.

Dutch Decker finally came up with a winner in the Volleyball wars, however, as his team won the O-QAA Championships for the first time. The competition was a little stiffer in the national competition, the C.I.A.U. Championships, however, as the team ended the tournament in third place.

The mermen, under Bob Eynon surfaced in third spot in the O-QAA Championships held here in London. At that meet, Paul Walker swam away with a new record in the hundred yard breast-stroke, leaving many to wonder how much he had practiced.



SWIMMING TEAM



WRESTLING & JUDO

The wrestling team really got mashed by the farm-boy types from Guelph in the O-QAA annual grapple, placing second. Coach Glynn Leyshon came up with a couple of individual winners, though, in Bill Tinsley (123-lb class), Charlie Nixon (130-lb class), Ole Sorenson (137-lb class), and Cy Symczak (152-lb class).

The Judo boys had fun, grinding each other into the mats. The Judo club had a bigger turnout this year, and there were apparently a few rugged female types that showed for this, making the world an even tougher place for the men.

FENCING

The fencing team really got lanced this year for all it's troubles, getting fenced out of the top four in the O-QAA set-to in Montreal, ending up in fifth place. The group held several invitational tourneys, in which they fared better. Our scribe claims they just took a stab at the beer mug in Drapeau-ville.

ROWING TEAM

The Rowing team, or "Crew" as they call themselves, did a damn fine job for Western this year. Winning the E.C.I.R.A. trophy and the O-QAA Championships, they had their sights set on the Olympics in Mexico for the summer, but were unfortunately out-pulled in the Canadian Olympic trials. They put up a fine try and deserved far more credit than they got.

With Dr. Phil Fitz-James as coach, the team did grab O-QAA firsts in the heavy varsity, junior varsity, and freshman events.

The golf team, under the tireless Mr. Decker, holed in for sixth spot in regional play. Scribe Luft says that with all due respect to the team, there was no fair-way they could have won it. Perhaps some are thinking of reversing the trend around here in the last few years by tearing down a few extraneous buildings — the place would make a dandy golf course.

The ski team got well and truly snowed under, placing ninth in the Championships at Quebec City. This is understandable, as neither U.C. Hill or the London Ski Club look too much like the Laurentians.

ARCHERY

The squash team, with a third place finish (squished between second and fourth) in the O-QAA, came up with a championship at their swing at McMaster in Hamilton.

The tennis team had a real racket going under Dutch Decker. Brian Flood won the singles, and teamed up with Bob Byrick to win the doubles in the Western Division, but both lost out in the O-QAA Finals in Montreal.

The team itself ended up in third place in the O-QAA Western Division.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

The soccer team won but one game in eight, and came in fifth in the Western Division of the O-QAA. Coach Julian Payne told scribe Luft that he didn't want his name behind the team's name. (Luft now says that that is untrue—soccer-to-me anyway Herb.)

The over-all, all-round athlete of the year at Western was Charlie Nixon, who won the Dr. Claude Brown Trophy for his contributions to sports here.

Other winners of trophies included Bob Larose, grabbing the John Metras Trophy for basketball, Wolf Tausendfreund, who was awarded the Peter Fowler Trophy for swimming, Bob Israel, gaining the MVP award for football with the George McCullagh Trophy, Mike Connolly, achieving the George Oliphant Trophy for wrestling, Dave Field, scoring with the Circle "K" Trophy, and John Heslop, the Robert McChesney Trophy, both for hockey excellence, and John Griffith ran off with the Murray McNie Trophy for Track and Field.

Ed Nelles was appointed
Commissioner of Publications
by the University Students' Council for a term of office from February 1967 to February 1968.
As Pubs. Commissioner,
a singularly appropriate title,
he was liason between the USC and the staffs of student publications—
Folio, Gingko, the Gazette and this volume of Occidentalia.

*". . . this paper (the Gazette) has completed a full year under probably the most enlightened publication commission in memory.
For that, Ed Nelles gets credit.
His concept of the Publication Commision job was to be interested in what was going on and to do as little as possible about it."*

WHAT'S DOW?

Dow is people—people engaged in research and development, production, design, sales and technical service—people engaged in pursuits to further their own interests—people creating a better way of life in Canada.

Dow is opportunity—opportunity to grow and develop within the limitations of each person's own capabilities. Employees are trained to take advantage of opportunity. Assignments are made with a high regard for individual development. Promotions are made from within. Most men in key positions today began their careers with Dow.

Dow is a major producer of industrial chemicals, plastics, agricultural chemicals, medical and veterinary products, fibres, flexible and rigid packaging from manufacturing facilities in Sarnia, Toronto and Fort William, Ontario; Montreal and Richmond, Quebec; Fort Saskatchewan and Edmonton, Alberta; and Ladner, British Columbia. Dowell operations also provide oil and gas well service and industrial cleaning from strategic locations across Canada.

Research goes on endlessly in Sarnia. Basic research, process development and application research make today's products better and evolve new products for tomorrow.

Dow is a good place to work. At least that's what our employees say. Fringe benefits help make it so: stock purchase plans are offered periodically; low-cost hospital and medical plans and life insurance; annual salary reviews with emphasis on merit; pension plan; educational refund plan for advanced courses.

For further information about your career with Dow please write to Industrial Relations Department, Dow Chemical of Canada, Limited at Sarnia, Ontario.

Keep Ingersoll-Rand in mind

Products bearing the name, Canadian Ingersoll-Rand are at work across Canada . . . pumping liquids, compressing air and other gases, drilling rock, aiding labour with power tools, and making paper. Throughout industry and wherever major projects are undertaken.

At C.I.R., research, design, manufacture and application are integrated for one purpose—to produce better products for industry. Something we've been doing since 1882. Quality and craftsmanship are two ingredients of which reputations are made, so we are always on the lookout for new skills. While it is unlikely that your career will be with us . . . certainly your career and our products will become acquainted. So keep Ingersoll-Rand in mind.
